Thanks John,

These drugs are as another critical tool of Satan continues to take root deeper and wider.

The tragedy of those living with these type of children young and old cannot or will not logically or even more so call upon God for an answer. Their being caught up in the horrible dark dilemma as to there being no answer other than to have their children continue these drugs because of what they become in a domestic setting when they are taken off of the drugs creating the horror of a catch 22.

I know of this personality as to having a grandson who has a personality disorder and manifested itself when he was around four years of age and by the time he was twelve they had to tie him up in order to quell his rage and physical destruction. He is now in his mid 20's living in poverty separated from his family and is in several rock bands living in New York City in an environment of darkness and he cannot be tamed unless he is on the drug prozac of which he cannot afford. I know that there is demonic activity in all of this and even with he was small there was always hostility towards me in general when I came to visit.

Another example was a close friend in a Messianic ministry helping Eastern European Jews aliyah to Israel and evangelizing among them at the same time. I went with him to Israel and noticed some strange behavior that happened on night while visiting a Russian family, but the next day he was back to his usual self, my lack of discernment left me only puzzled and then just passing his acting odd and withdrawn over perhaps he just wasn't feeling well. Around eight years later I went to be with him in a mission that he had started in South Phoenix in a black community. As I entered the home in which he was visiting he was on the phone in a stream of profanity with a cigarette hanging out of his mouth. I was shocked beyond belief and as we went to talk after taking food to a shelter he shared how he had just left his wife and daughter and was living with intentions of marrying a black pregnant woman who was a bar stripper.

He then went on to say that it was all the fault of the environment he went to minister to and for me not to come back or it would infect me as well. He also boasted of using his Israeli martial arts to beat up a man in a bar. I immediately called my friend that at that time was in the same ministry and had introduced me to this man years before. He told me that this close friend acted that way when he was off of his prescription drug and our friend said he would never again take any medicine at all again for his mental (spiritual) state. Sometime later when we had lost all contact with him, it was known that he was in a state prison and is still there for some violent act...I would imagine they are making sure he remains on drugs to keep him calm.

Again Satan using the effects of whether or not to use a toxic drug for control over his mind and spirit.

There is a great need for deliverance in all of this as the only way to deliver so many from this satanic stronghold is strong impassioned prayer, fasting with a strong belief faith and trust our Messiah's gifting to us of deliverance and healing. In this man's case he let it be known he wanted no visits from anyone. So we can only pray for him from afar that the Holy Spirit invades that strong demonic hold and bring him back to where he once belonged and even much more so.

Such tragedies, and I would say this will become even more so as the world continues to darken and it's only answer is medical. In the midst of this dark confusion and violence due to Satan's violent and deceptive measures. I do not understand this when it happens to victims at such a young age and even when my grandson was in grade school my daughter caught him after a church service by himself calling out to the Lord on his knees crying "Why am I like this!!??" Now years later they have left the church and the Lord with bitterness and confusion. I do have a great hope in that my daughter has just joined a women's bible study and that will lead her back to a true and deep relationship with our Lord Yeshua. I will be visiting them soon for another conversation face to face over all of this and I pray the Lord will give me His wisdom in this.

Also I have nephew that was a strong leader in a Baptist church when his daughter announced she was a lesbian and had almost been run over by a schoolmate because she let it be known at the school she was attending. This led to her being a guest on the Ellen DeGeneres Show and invitation to the President Obama's White House to confirm her being a hero in the fight for freedom in homosexuality. This recognition shredded the family as to their relationship with the Lord and they separated from his parents my sister and brother-in-law. They became advocates for the homosexual cause that eventually brought on a great darkness as the daughter then had the operations for gender change then she became emotionally (actually spiritually unstable) to the point that she held a gun on her mother until the police arrived and took it from her.

Now my sister says that this girl is an absolute zombie because of all the medication she is on and although she is now in her twenties she is under complete care by my nephew and his wife, their younger son has also fallen into a deep state of darkness. Not the end of the story I'm sure unless the conviction of the Holy Spirit breaks this stronghold and they as many turn and know that our relationship with the Messiah is conditional of dying to self, being obedient driven by our love for Him, The Father and Holy Spirit to become holy and righteous as He is. In this He does so lovingly command for our own selves, as He instructs us to be holy as He is holy!

A large percentage of Believer's I would venture to say are extremely uncomfortable with this and dismiss it as being under an iron firm master's hand Who really in their minds see the Savior as One Who only shows mercy and grace..... exemplifying an oily substance that brings to mind the cream for a fifties ducktail and a bucket of a dark substance they put on mechanical wheels in order for them to operate more smoothly.

The absence of truth and justice in the equation of obedience and sanctification bringing forth grace and mercy for those that believe. Bob...Phil. 1:21

Below is my answer-response to the above writer's message:

Bob, thank you for sharing this information. Like you, we also have family relatives in situations such as you described. I also worked with families in these circumstances when I was in full-time ministry and to some extent in lay ministry over the years. As you probably know, drugs of any sort that have an effect on a person's mind, have their roots in "pharmakeia," the Greek word, (associated with sorcery and witchcraft, in English bible translations), from which we get our word pharmaceutical. It is no accident that the Bible speaks of these sort of things as evil. In fact, as I understand it, these are some of the major sins that the fallen angels were teaching humans in the days before the flood in Noah's time... as elaborated upon in the books of Enoch, Jared, and Jasher. And connected to what Yeshua said as in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the days of the coming of the son of man. I have come to the conclusion, that the only solution for this is the ministry of the Holy Spirit. Sort of like unto the prodigal son laying at the slop trough eating pods with the hogs (Luke 15:11-32). And as far as I can tell, unlike the demoniac Yeshua delivered (Mat 8:27-34), there was no other intervention in the prodigal son except by Yahweh himself. For my upcoming newsletter update for current events, I think I will address this issue as the main portion of the subject matter. On the diabolical side of this discussion, the "legal" drugs are no different than the "illegal" drugs except that there is profitable control by the people involved who want to direct the funds to certain individuals. I believe them to be Luciferian's. Further, I do not think these events fall into what we consider unintended consequences. I think they know fully well what they're up to and it's a part of their agenda to create chaos to break up moral and civil social structures.

Shalom... John
